OUT OF THE BOX SOLUTIONS

SERVICE BRIEF

Hosted Desktop Solutions

Access your desktop and applications from anywhere, and reduce the costs associated with desktop maintenance and management.

Virtualize Your Desktop

Let Out of the Box Solutions host your desktop environments from our data center.

With hosted desktop solutions, your entire office can be virtualized, granting your employees access to their desktop and applications from any location. By centralizing your desktop environment, you can access your files and programs virtually on any device with a web browser, and the cost of management and support is minimized.

Using our hosted desktop platform, all of your applications and data are stored in our network operations center. With unparalleled physical and technological security mechanisms you will never have to worry about data security again.

Thin Client Capabilities

Simplify your software maintenance and management, and forget about hardware.

Virtualizing your office can drastically reduce the cost of operating your business. By moving to the cloud, you can outfit your entire operation with thin client terminals which only need the Internet and minimal hardware to access our service. This offers several cost savings, like reduced power costs, longer terminal life cycle, and decreased terminal workloads. The end result is significantly reduced operating costs, with an overall increase in efficiency for both management and maintenance.

Increased Mobility

Empower your workforce to be more productive, both on the road or across the world.

With Out of the Box Solutions' hosted desktop solution and an Internet connection, you can access your company's applications and documents from any approved devices. At home or on the road, from virtually any device with a browser, you can access all of your desktop applications and documents securely without sacrificing functionality.

Enhanced Data Security

Never worry about a laptop being stolen and company data being lost.

With a hosted desktop environment, your business' mission-critical information is safely stored in our data center. You will never have to worry about losing a laptop with critical company documents, simply because your data is never on the physical device.
